Asking the shopkeeper where you buy the cards might be a better idea than buying stamps at the post office, where they're only sold in sets of 5 (or 50). You need stamps marked "Internationaal 1" (for cards or letters up to 20 gram). But at post offices, they usually have franking machines.

A collection of 100 postcards, each featuring a different and iconic Penguin book jacket. From classics to crime, here are over seventy years of quintessentially British design in one box. In 1935 Allen Lane stood on a platform at Exeter railway station, looking for a good book for the journey to London. His disappointment at the poor range of paperbacks on offer led him to found Penguin Books. The quality paperback had arrived. Declaring that 'good design is no more expensive than bad', Lane was adamant that his Penguin paperbacks should cost no more than a packet of cigarettes, but that they should always look distinctive. Ever since then, from their original - now world-famous - look featuring three bold horizontal stripes, through many different stylish, inventive and iconic cover designs, Penguin's paperback jackets have been a constantly evolving part of Britain's culture. And whether they're for classics, crime, reference or prize-winning novels, they still follow Allen Lane's original design mantra. Sometimes, you definitely should judge a book by its cover.

POSTCARDS FROM PISMO is the story of Felix Maldonado, a sensitive ten-year-old living in the Central Coast region of California. What begins as a school project blossoms into a powerful friendship when Felix writes a letter to an American soldier serving in Afghanistan. Their pen pal correspondence grows more important than ever when Felix 's older brother, Quin, enlists in the military to raise money for college. Told entirely through Felix 's letters, emails, and postcards to the soldier, the novel traces the boy 's growth as he grapples with bullies, the fear arising from his brother 's enlistment, and the meaning of bravery itself. Humorous, timely, and deeply moving, this unforgettable tale is not to be missed.

In California, Agnes, a giant Pacific octopus, pens a series of postcards to strangers from both above and below the pier.
